

dbUG-BI Registration

Completion of the registration page is required for all users of the dbUG-BI community, regardless whether you prefer to utilize the forum site or email distribution list.

Members of organizations that utilize Epicor BisTrack are eligible to join dbUG email and forum communities only after completing implementation and being transferred to Epicor support. Requests for new accounts are validated against a list of BisTrack customers currently in support. As such, there may be slight delays in accounts being activated.

To create an account for a new site user, click "Create One."

Read and acknowledge the site disclaimer by clicking “Close”.

The image shows a registration form with a modal window titled "Disclaimer" overlaid on top. The form fields include: "Email", "Username" (with the value "bryan.tucker"), "Company", "Password" (with a note "Your password must be a mix of uppercase letters, digits, and symbols"), "Confirm Password", "Why do you want to join?", "Security Check" (with a reCAPTCHA widget and the text "I'm not a robot"), and a checkbox for "I agree to the terms of service". A "Register" button is at the bottom. The disclaimer text reads: "The information on the site you are using is provided 'as is' without warranty of any kind. This site is not administered or endorsed by Epicor. The information, opinions, advice, files, or content of any sort which has been made available through this site are not developed, supported, or endorsed by Epicor and therefore are not covered by your Support Agreement with Epicor for support and maintenance of the BisTrack software platform. Neither Epicor nor the administrators of this site are liable for any consequential, incidental, or direct damages suffered in the course of using this site or content sourced therefrom. This is a peer to peer site for idea and information sharing only. Please be respectful and enjoy your time on the dBug site!". A "Close" button is located at the bottom right of the modal.

Enter your COMPANY PROVIDED email address. Personal email addresses, such as hotmail, gmail, etc. may take longer to validate or may not be validated.

Use a unique password that meets the complexity requirements provided on the page.

***Important***– The Username you enter on the registration page is what is visible to other users of the forum when you post or comment on items in the forum. Please be sure what you enter is acceptable for display to others.

You must accept the Terms of Service before clicking “Register” to complete the registration process.
